Health “efficiency” means murder

The stated goal of the Rudd government’s federal health takeover—increased “efficiency”—means more institutionalised, bureaucratic mass murder, Citizens Electoral Council leader Craig Isherwood charged today.

“The issue is resources,” Mr Isherwood said. “Anything less than a massive injection of resources into the health system, meaning more money, doctors, nurses and beds, will continue to condemn vulnerable people to avoidable deaths.

“They will continue to be murdered, by the system.”

Mr Isherwood blasted Rudd’s adoption of Victoria’s Casemix funding model:

“Both major parties have blood on their hands, when it comes to health,” he said.

“Jeff Kennett and the Liberals/Nationals gutted Victoria’s public health system by introducing Casemix to slash funding; now Rudd holds up Victoria as a model of efficiency, and wants to impose that nationwide.

“Meanwhile, look at Rudd’s own role in public health: he earned the moniker ‘Dr Death’ as chief bureaucrat in Queensland when he restructured that state and its health system in the early 1990s, which put Queenslanders at the mercy of a real ‘Dr Death’ in Bundaberg.

“The first Royal Commissioner into Bundaberg’s ‘Dr Death’ case blamed the travesty on a health system so bureaucratised that only an estimated 20-25 per cent of health funding was spent on patient care.”

Mr Isherwood pointed out that successive governments in all states and federally have gotten away with destroying the health system, because the public largely accepted the fraudulent argument that costs had to be contained.

“The people who make the arguments about reducing costs are liars—they are the ones who loaded the system with enormous bureaucracies, and enabled private corporations to profit enormously from health spending.

“Don’t ever accept the lie that health costs have to be controlled, because you are accepting that the system has the right to kill you,” he warned.

“If the health system is getting ‘too expensive’, the problem is the state of the economy—if an economy can’t afford to take care of its people’s health, it proves that economy isn’t prosperous, it’s collapsing.

“Fix the economic collapse—don’t kill people.”

Mr Isherwood called for the immediate implementation of the CEC’s legislation for financial system restructuring and a national bank, as well as its economic development program to generate real economic wealth, which he insisted is a prerequisite for successfully fixing the health crisis.

“Don’t ever accept the lie that health costs have to be controlled, because you are accepting that the system has the right to kill you”

LaRouche candidate wins in mass-strike boilover

Citizens Electoral Council leader Craig Isherwood today congratulated U.S. LaRouche Youth Movement leader Kesha Rogers on her boilover victory in the Democratic Party primary for the Texas 22nd Congressional district:

“Kesha’s win is a victory for the common good, and is a warning to those who betray that principle, that the people are coming after you,” he said.

“In a stunning example that what you read in the mainstream Australian media is a pack of lies: forget their rock-star image of Obama—Kesha, an African-American woman, won a landslide in a Democratic Party primary by campaigning to IMPEACH BARACK OBAMA; winning 52 per cent of the vote, she outpolled her two opposing candidates combined.

“Australian state premiers may be embarrassingly lobbying to have Obama visit their states, but the American people hate him, even those in his own party.

“Why? Because he betrayed them, and sold them out to Wall Street and the City of London,” Mr Isherwood charged.

Kesha Rogers’ victory, under the campaign slogan, “Impeach Obama, Save NASA, Vote Kesha”, is the latest manifestation of the mass-strike Lyndon LaRouche identified had taken hold of the American people back in July 2009.

The people put their trust in Obama to rescue America from the disaster of the Bush years, and the exploding economic crisis, only to realise, within months, that he betrayed them. Instead of cleaning out Wall Street, like Roosevelt did in similar circumstances and the way

Kesha Rogers called for the impeachment of President Barack Obama as the centerpiece of her campaign for Congress, and on Tuesday she won the nomination of her party.
 The Democratic Party.
 It was no stealth campaign. Rogers shouted it from a sound truck that cruised the four-county 22nd Congressional District. She posted an 18-foot banner emblazoned with the message "Save NASA. Impeach Obama" on street corners. Her Web site is filled with videos and periodic policy statements documenting her stand.

During the campaign, Rogers denounced warnings of global warming as imperialist genocide, proclaimed that London banking interests are bent on ruining America's economy and accused Obama of "pissing on the legacy of President John F. Kennedy" in proposing to end NASA's Constellation program.

"I can't believe that most people who voted for her knew that she wants to" impeach Obama, losing candidate Doug Blatt states on his Web site. "I do believe that most of them didn't do any research about the candidates before voting."

One Democratic blogger already has posted instructions on how to de-select Rogers from a straight party ticket vote.

LaRouche prescribed, he bailed them out, bankrupting the United States to the tune of $23 trillion to prop up not only U.S. banks, but the entire City of London-run international monetary system.

To pay for this bail-out, he is pursuing a brutal austerity program against the people, including deep cuts to health care, and cut-backs to NASA, including cancelling NASA’s manned space exploration program, Constellation—a raw issue for Texans in Kesha’s Houston region in particular. (Obama’s health care reform is the ultimate betrayal: couched as ‘universal health care’, it is in fact universal health care rationing, which under the cover of forcibly enrolling 30 million more people to the rapacious private, read it, private health insurance companies, cuts $2 trillion from existing programs like Medicare for the elderly, whom Obama has singled out as the main expense of the health care system that needs to be slashed. As LaRouche charged, “Kill grandma, to bail out Wall Street.”)

Mr Isherwood warned that Kesha’s victory, although in the U.S., puts Rudd and Abbott on notice: “There is a mass-strike underway in Australia as well, and if Rudd’s ALP or the Abbott Coalition continue to betray Australians through their globalist policies—like in the current health care debate where both sides are trying to claim Jeff Kennett’s genocidal reforms in Victoria as their model—they will pay for it too.

“Like LaRouche and Kesha, the CEC’s commitment is to the common good, and that is the principle people will rally around in this crisis,” he said.
